The Philosophy of St. Athanasius School

Saint Athanasius School exists for the purpose of spreading the Good News of Christ according to Catholic teaching. Our mission is to address the intellectual, spiritual, emotional, and physical needs of our students. We are dedicated to empowering our students to live Christian values and to strive for academic excellence.

Our school is Catholic in its philosophy, its teachings, and its practice of the Catholic faith. Our acceptance of children from other religions, with the hope of evangelization, is an aspect of our Catholicity. We emphasize Catholic Christian formation that cannot be done in the public schools.

The school is an extension of the Church, a place where young people experience its teachings and traditions. Students are encouraged to embrace a life of faith through prayer, liturgy, and example.

Our children and their parents/guardians understand that we teach Catholic doctrine and foster Catholic Christian values. They agree to this when they register their children in our school. The religious message is lived out each day in the way we show respect to one another, in our warm welcoming of visitors, in our prayers, and in our efforts to live as Christ's disciples.

The members of Saint Athanasius School show a genuine spirit of caring. They offer support and show sincere respect for one another. Our community life extends to the entire faith community, West Oak Lane, and surrounding neighborhoods. Through prayer and service projects, we reach out to neighbors in need.

We incorporate a range of methods in the intellectual development of students at various grade levels of the school. This development begins in the primary grades through the use of concrete operations and proceeds through the intermediate and upper grades with the gradual introduction of the logic of symbolic operations. We believe that academic development depends on the logical presentation of organized subject matter and the cultivation of critical thinking, reading, and problem-solving skills.

In planning its program of studies, the school follows the guidelines issued by the Archdiocese of Philadelphia. The guidelines address the intellectual, spiritual, emotional, and physical needs of the students. They stress the development and extension of basic skills in all areas of curriculum while stimulating and encouraging creativity.

We instruct our children through whole group instruction while addressing individual needs through cooperative learning, small group instruction, and the utilization of Title 1 and Act 89 remedial services.

The school embraces the view that personal development is directed toward a meaningful, responsible, and self-actualizing life. The first steps occur as the students learn to make decisions and take responsibility for them. The students are taught to value themselves and their accomplishments while seeing themselves as part of the community. Their decisions are guided by a living faith.

The school views social development as learning to respect self and others, while accepting the obligations of citizenship in a democratic society. The school provides students with an environment of faith and mutual respect so they will have the ability to make appropriate responses and decisions in their interactions with one another and with those in authority.

Physical education is viewed as understanding and accepting one's body as a creation of God and learning to enjoy its capabilities without abuse. Physical education entails appropriate health education from grades Pre-K to 8, in conjunction with activities such as free and improvised play, and through more structured physical education classes conducted once a week. An understanding of the danger inherent in drugs, alcohol, and other controlled substances is addressed through the various programs and in science class.

The school provides for the spiritual development of the children by making God part of their daily life. Religion is taught as a major subject in our school. We foster a living faith in Jesus Christ who is the bond between the human and the divine. We provide an environment characterized by the signs, symbols, manners, and customs of a community of faith, and by the witness of teachers and staff. We accept children from various denominations and encourage them to practice their faith even though the official religious instruction is in the Catholic faith. Our school forms values through its rules, religious instruction, and liturgical celebrations. We strive to instill a strong moral sensibility and to be examples of our teaching.

We celebrate holy days and special times (Black History Month, Halloween, St. Nicholas Day, etc.) throughout the year through liturgical celebrations and individual classroom celebrations. We acknowledge children's birthdays and achievements publicly on the PA system. Children are also rewarded with verbal praise, the honor system, student of the month, etc. In keeping with this positive approach to education, we believe that students must be accountable for all of their actions. Consequently, inappropriate behaviors may result in the loss of certain privileges and/or the issuing of demerits or detention.

Educational policy is determined and implemented within a collaborative framework. Major directives regarding educational policy are sent to the school by the Archdiocesan office. Educational policies and objectives are clearly set forth in these curriculum guidelines. These directives are clarified for the teachers by the Principal during faculty meetings. The curriculum coordinators are also instrumental in explaining educational policy to the faculty.

Management policy is defined in the faculty handbook and in the student/parent handbook. These handbooks outline the rules that are to be followed by teachers and students. Policy is also communicated through faculty meetings, the Home and School Association and memos from the principal. Changes in management policy are made through dialogue between the Pastor and the Principal in consultation with the faculty.

The basic academic skills are organized along a continuum which allows students to develop at an individual pace. The mastery of skills is monitored by continual evaluation. Reinforcement of skills is provided for those students who need it. Teaching methods are based primarily on large group instruction in which concepts are presented to an entire group of students. There are times, however, when cooperative learning takes place within small groups of students. It is also necessary, on occasion, to provide individual student instruction. Teachers try to place more emphasis on developing critical thinking skills by teaching students to use research tools, such as the computer.

The school achieves its purposes through the dedication and cooperation of the administration and faculty. The teaching process is supervised by the Principal and by representatives from the Office of Catholic Education of the Archdiocese of Philadelphia.

Students are formally evaluated in order to determine their level of progress in each subject area. Formal tests include Archdiocesan assessments, teacher-made assessments, publishers' assessments, and the Terra Nova Test. Educational evaluations are sometimes used as a tool to identify causes for low achievement. Students' academic progress and personal development are also evaluated informally. This is accomplished through teachers' observations of students' work habits and behavior in the classroom.

The teacher is a role model, reflecting by example the kind of adult the school hopes the student will become. According to time and circumstance, the teacher takes on varying roles, including director of learning who sets up the educational environment, and supportive helper, establishing a nurturing relationship with each student. The teacher is also a disciplinarian who sets fair rules and guidelines, and helps children act responsibly.

At Saint Athanasius School, each teacher is dedicated to Catholic education and desires to promote Christian values and academic excellence. The teacher is not merely an employee of the school, but the embodiment of all the values the school espouses. Teachers exercise responsibility for their life choices, incorporating the spiritual, civic, and academic traditions and values of the school, believing that children learn best from example. Teachers strive to meet and advance the needs of the students. We all work together for the best interest of the school community. Respect is evident in our relationships with one another, both professionally and personally. We sincerely try to affirm and encourage each other. All our teachers feel that they share in the responsibility for the well being of each child; therefore, in an environment permeated by Christian faith and morals, we strive to promote the highest academic standards for our students.

Teachers endeavor to be honest with parents. They confer regularly with them on all significant aspects of the development of the students. They try to make parents aware that the academic success of their children depends on having high expectations for their academic performance and cooperating with the faculty in all aspects of the learning process.

As a faculty, we realize that our philosophy is the ideal. We strive daily to make it a reality for the staff and students of St. Athanasius School.

The Faculty and Staff of St. Athanasius School thank you for giving this handbook your time and attention. Please refer to it as often as you need to, and do not hesitate to call us if you have a question or wish clarification of any point.

Thank you for entrusting your children to us. It is our sincere hope that all of us - faculty, students, and parents - enter St. Athanasius School to learn and leave to serve.

MANDATED REPORTING

Archdiocesan Policy on Reporting Suspected Child Abuse and Neglect

The Standards of Ministerial Behavior and Boundaries (the "Standards of Ministerial Behavior" or "the Standards") are applicable to all priests, deacons, religious, pastoral ministers, administrators, staff and volunteers in the Archdiocese of Philadelphia. They are intended to provide clear standards of behavior and, in particular, a blueprint for the boundaries of appropriate behavior in all interactions with children and young people. The Standards are not intended to create any rights in any person, to obligate the Archdiocese to act at any time or in any manner, or to establish any responsibility or liability of the Archdiocese.

The following statements go beyond the Child Protective Services Act and delineate reporting procedures based on whether or not the alleged abuser is an employee or volunteer of the Archdiocese or parish.

1. When the alleged perpetrator is someone other than an Archdiocesan or Parish employee or volunteer the following procedures apply:
 - A) You must notify the administrator of the school, parish, religious education program or youth ministry program immediately.
 - B) Once you notify the administrator of the elementary school, parish religious education or youth ministry program, you must notify the pastor.
 - C) The administrator must call the Department of Public Welfare Child Line at 1-800-932-0313.
 - D) The administrator must contact both the Office for Child and Youth Protection at 215-587-2466 and the appropriate administrative office within the Secretariat for Catholic Education for advice and assistance.

2. When the alleged perpetrator is an Archdiocesan or Parish employee or volunteer the following procedures apply:
 - A. You must notify the administrator of school, parish, religious education or youth ministry program immediately.
 - B. Once you notify the administrator of the elementary school, parish religious education or youth ministry program you must notify the pastor.
 - C. The administrator must call the Department of Public Welfare Child Line at 1-800-932-0313.
 - D. The administrator must notify the local police department.
 - E. The administrator must contact both the Office for Child and Youth Development at 215-587-2466 and the appropriate administrative office within the Secretariat for Catholic Education for advice and assistance.

3. There are no special considerations for non-Catholic students regarding dress, prayers, and prayer times.

REPORT CARDS - REPORTING SYSTEM

1. Report Cards are issued three times during the year. Pre-K students receive two "Progress Reports" during the school year.
2. Report Cards are issued to inform parents of their child's progress. Parents should study this report carefully and pay close attention to those areas that are in need of improvement. It is the parent's responsibility to encourage their children to work to the best of their ability.

 - e. Students will not knowingly or recklessly post false information about persons or organizations.

Such improper conduct may take the form of unwanted verbal or physical contact, verbal or written derogatory or discriminatory statements, and behavior otherwise not conducive to the educational and religious mission of the school. Unacceptable conduct - either by a student or a parent/guardian- includes but is not limited to:
 - a. disrespectful behavior of any kind toward or about any staff, student, volunteer, or parent.
 - b. bullying: behavior that prevents or discourages another student from exercising his/her right to education; aggressive or intentional hurtful behavior perpetrated repeatedly over a period of time and in a relationship characterized by an imbalance of power (with regards to gender, physical or mental strength, social acceptance etc.); such prohibited behavior includes the use of teasing, taunting, threats, coercion, repeated harassment, abuse,

- A student violates this rule even if the student did not intend to use the object as a weapon.

These categories do not cover every possible situation. The school will determine which behavior is inappropriate.

This policy applies both in and out of the classroom, in the school community generally and outside the school community, where the behavior is contrary to Catholic teachings or could bring disrepute or embarrassment to the School.

Conduct by students or parents/guardians, or anyone acting on their behalf, contrary to the educational and religious mission of the school is grounds for disciplinary action, including but not limited to the immediate dismissal of the student, as well as reporting the incident to the appropriate legal authorities where appropriate.

In addition, in the case of threats of violence or harassment, in any form, including oral, written, or electronic, by a student against any member of the school community, the student, if suspended but not dismissed, may be required to have psychological or psychiatric clearance before returning to school.

Situations may arise that will warrant review of a student's conduct or behavior. These matters will be reviewed on an individual case basis. Due process will be provided for parents and students in cases which may result in suspension or expulsion. The Administration has the final say in all disciplinary matters.

VISITORS

1. ALL VISITORS TO THE SCHOOL MUST SIGN IN AT THE FRONT DESK IMMEDIATELY UPON ENTERING THE SCHOOL. Parents are not to go to a classroom or attempt to engage the teacher in conversation since the teacher's presence in the classroom is required.

2. NO ONE may go to any other part of the building without first going to the MAIN OFFICE AFTER SIGNING IN.
3. Any visitor who does not report to the main office on entering the building will be considered as trespassing on school property.
4. An atmosphere of quiet respect for the learning rights of others should prevail throughout the school building.

VOLUNTEERS

All volunteers in any of our school programs or activities must participate in the PROTECTING GOD’S CHILDREN program for adults, which is sponsored by the Archdiocese of Philadelphia. 2. Within the school, these learning experiences shall address students’ knowledge, skills, attitudes, and behaviors and provide opportunities for students to have positive food experiences. Curriculum, lessons and others activities shall be age-appropriate and behavior focused. Lifelong lifestyle balance shall be reinforced by linking healthy food choices and physical activity.
3. All foods available to students and the school community on the school campus and through school functions shall support the policy goals of promoting student health and shall be consistent with current U.S. Dietary Guidelines for Americans.

Dismissal Time & CARES Program

August, 2019

Dear Parent/Guardian,

In order to provide you with important information concerning dismissal times, a monthly calendar, issued at least one week prior to the next month, is given to your child. Except for the school sponsored CARES program, no other type of after school supervision is available. Consequently, 20 minutes after the scheduled dismissal time, 3:05 P.M. on regular days and 12:05 P.M. on half-days, any child who is still on the school premises will be taken by a teacher to the CARES Room. There will be a fee charged for the CARES service (Please see the information concerning enrollment, fees, and scheduling for CARES program contained in the letter). After 3:05 P.M. on a full day a $15.00 fee will be charged.

In order to facilitate a safe dismissal, the following directives are in place:

- Any child picked up by car goes out in the “car line” and waits with the teacher in charge of that line until the designated adult personally picks up the child;
- The adult picking up the child should park his/her car on either Cedar Park Avenue or Middleton Street. Under no circumstances may a car be driven into the schoolyard at dismissal;
- If any aspect of your “usual pick up” changes, such as designated person or time, please be sure to give your child very clear and specific directions. This is particularly necessary for children in Pre-K – 3. Please notify the school office by letter or phone call, as well, if there are any dismissal changes.

Your child’s safety is important to us, as it is to you. Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

The second part of the communication refers specifically to the CARES program, our before and after school-sponsored program of supervision. Thank you, again, for your interest and cooperation. All of this information can be accessed from our website: www.saschool.org

Sincerely,

Miss Andrea L. Tomaino

POLICY STATEMENT ON SEXUALITY

August, 2019

The learning environment and religious nature of Catholic schools are guided by the Catechism of the Catholic Church. The Catechism of the Catholic Church can be found at the website for the United States Catholic Conference of Bishops.¹

Among other things, the Catechism of the Church states: “By creating the human being man and woman, God gives personal dignity equally to the one and the other. Each of them man and woman, should acknowledge and accept his sexual identity.” (§2393, Catechism of the Catholic Church). “Except within a valid marriage between a man and a woman (see, e.g. Sections 2360-2363, Catechism of the Catholic Church), Christ is the model of chastity, which all are called upon to emulate. See, e.g. Sections 2392-2397, Catechism of the Catholic Church.”

If a student’s expression of gender, sexual identity or sexuality should cause confusion or disruption at the Catholic school, if it should mislead others, cause scandal or have the potential for causing scandal, then the matter will be discussed with the student and his/her parents or guardians. If not resolved to the satisfaction of the School, which is seeking to uphold Catholic principles, then the student will be expelled from the Catholic School after the parents are first given the option to immediately withdraw the student from the School.

As in the case of students, if serious concerns arise as to a parent’s or guardian’s (herein “parent’s”) position or action with respect to the tenets of the Catholic faith, then he/she will be counseled by the School. If the matter involving the parents/student(s) is not resolved to the satisfaction of the School, which is seeking to uphold Catholic principles, then the parent will be asked to withdraw child(ren) from School and they agree to do so immediately. If they fail to do so, parents understand that child(ren) will be expelled from the Catholic school.
